More About Audrey Blair

Please join us in welcoming
Audrey J. Blair

Audrey joined the firm in 2009 as an Associate and she fit right in immediately with the NEMSB team. With her background in family law and family law litigation, Audrey brings broad family issues resolution knowledge and particular knowledge in family violence to her clients. It was obvious that her exceptional handling of her cases would make her a great partner with the firm and she joined the Partnership at the beginning of the year. She also recently became board certified in family law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization.

After graduating from College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, Massachusetts with a double major in Spanish and History, Audrey came to Texas for law school at Baylor. Having established many relationships in Texas convinced her to practice law here, though in Austin rather than Waco. Following a very rewarding time with the Women's Advocacy Project, Inc., a nonprofit dedicated to representing victims of domestic violence, Audrey developed her own thriving law practice. After five years in a solo practice, Audrey joined the firm as an associate.

Throughout her career, Audrey has provided legal services to clients in Central Texas without the financial means to hire a private attorney. She has received recognition from SafePlace as well as Texas RioGrande Legal Aid for her efforts. Audrey's partner of five years, Steve Sponseller, provides the constant support that helps her succeed at the practice of law. Audrey's parents, Barb & Wayne Blair, of Pownal, Vermont, have been an unwavering source of encouragement and support throughout her career. Having grown up in Vermont, where she spent lots of time skiing and participating in other outside activities, and having been a coxswain on the rowing team, she loves to be outdoors when not practicing law. She and Steve like fishing, hiking and traveling. Audrey is also an amateur vegetable gardener and has a very active life including yoga, swimming, jogging and other gym sports.

Please join us in congratulating Audrey on her promotion (ablair@nems-law.com).
